Math Courses
Tuesday	Algebra I	In Algebra I students explore the simplification, solving, graphing and interpretation of linear, exponential, radical, quadratic, and rational functions both manually and with technology. Internet search keywords help students locate online tools and enrichment. Each chapter features graphing calculator tutorials, lessons in sequences and series, and a mathematical biography or career segment. Biblical truths and principles are taught through Dominion Modeling exercises that illustrate how mathematics is used to serve others and glorify God.		Evangelina Arriola	Evangelina is a wife and mom of four kids. She earned a B.A. in Liberal Studies with a concentration in mathematics from Cal Poly Pomona. She holds a Single Subject Teaching Credential in Foundational Mathematics, Pupil Personnel Service Credential, and a Master's degree in Education. Evangelina worked at a public high school teaching a wide range of math classes for ten years, taught math for a public virtual high school for three years, and in the last two years has been teaching SAT prep. She has a desire to help all students understand math, have a positive perspective in learning, loves the challenge of helping students enjoy the subject, and is excited to incorporate faith into the curriculum. Thursday	Geometry	Overview of the course: This is a full year, high school level geometry course. The curriculum is a proof-based presentation of Euclidean geometry as a model of God's creative ability. Unlike some integrated geometry curricula, the course is designed to focus on the principles of logical reason used by Euclid in his original system of geometry. The course covers all familiar geometry (points, lines, planes, polygons etc.) with an emphasis on evaluating the reasons to make claims about these objects; this means a plain assessment of arguments from established fact. Mathematical concepts discussed in this course: Incidence geometry; Subsets of lines; Places and space; Segments and measurement; Angles and measurement; Preparing proofs; Congruence; Triangles and quadrilaterals; Area of two and three dimensional forms; Circles and the related geometric functions; Space and how geometry applies in three dimensions; Volume; Transformations and symmetry; Two-column proofs, heavy emphasis throughout the entire course.	BJU Geometry Student Text 4th edition	Luke Miller	Luke graduated from UC Berkeley with a bachelors in philosophy and a minor in logic. His emphasis was in mathematical reasoning, and through this formal training he has developed a proficiency in it. Luke is a graduate of Western Christian PSP and is dedicated to upholding the integrity of its academic and character training.	Email: luke_miller65@yahoo.com Cell: (626)-673-9574

Tuesdays & Thursdays	Algebra II	This is a presentation of Algebra as an exercise in stewardship of creation, developing thinking skills and Christlikeness. Mathematical concepts discussed in this course include factoring polynomials, binomials, and trinomials; linear equations and inequalities; linear relations; quadratic equations and functions; graphing; linear programming; radicals and exponential functions; imaginary and other complex numbers; rational expressions and equations; trigonometry; matrix algebra. Tuesdays & Thursdays	Pre-Calculus	Pre-Calculus is a two-semester review of mathematics designed as a checkpoint preparatory for calculus. The course is designed with the college-bound student in mind, and is practically necessary for higher-level math for any stem and stem-related field (the traditional sciences like chemistry and physics, as well as academic fields like economics, business, and engineering). Pre-calculus is a prerequisite for many lower-division college courses, but can be quite challenging for many students. It is recommended that a student take both algebra 2 and geometry prior to enrollment, but a highly capable and intrinsically motivated student might still excel without these courses. It is, however, expected that a student be proficient in algebra prior to this course, as the skills presented are utilized and developed throughout pre-calculus. Day	Class	Course Description	Curriculum	Teacher	Bio	Email/Phone
Tuesday	HS Art	Students will learn about the elements of art and how each element plays its part. The class will explore different mediums including paper, canvas, watercolor and more. Students will also explore different time periods and the artists of those eras, creating art from what they learn.		Laura Taylor	Laura received her teaching credential and masters in education from Azusa Pacific University and taught in the public school system for 17 years. She has a minor in Spanish and became fluent while using it consistently in her classroom as well as heading the EL Literature program at her school. For the past 5 years she has had her own side business of painting wood signs and developing her artistic skills.	Email: taylormade6156@gmail.com
Tuesday	Career Explorations 9-12th	We want to help students explore different career paths from a young age. We have assembled a team of parents who want to pour into the next generation by helping students on their journey toward figuring out what they want to do. We will read a book, hold discussions, talk about different careers and learn together. This will be a fun/interactive class.	TBA	Lana Varela	This class is offered at no cost to all 7th-12th graders at the Rancho campus and it is run by a team of parents passionate about helping students find their calling.	Class is free.
Tuesday	Worship Band	Do you play an instrument already and want to be in a worship band? Mr. Duran will be guiding students into the art of worship leading. Students will need to audition for this class and practice the assigned songs at home. Mr. James Duran will teach students to lead worship as a band, using instruments that students already know how to play. Wide range of instruments will be allowed, such as: guitar, percussion, bass, keyboard, violin, cello, saxophone, and ukulele. Performance opportunities will be announced.	none	James Duran	Mr. James Duran teaches a wide range of instruments and also leads worship at his church. He and his wife currently homeschool their son, Simon.	Email: jimiduran@gmail.com
