Tuesday Courses @ CCR and Northkirk
Tuesday Northkirk 9:00AM	IEW A (3rd-5th Grade)  $75 per semester	Writing is one of the hardest subjects for parent's to feel confident in teaching. Legacy supports parents in their teaching of writing by offering IEW A once a week to students beginning in 3rd grade. This course should be repeated through the 6th grade as this method is designed for students to succeed by repetition. IEW's unique approach provides the structure students need to develop confidence in the writing process, while gradually guiding them toward greater independence and creativity. They will learn nine Structural Models (Note Making and Outlines, Writing From Notes, Retelling Narrative Stories, Summarizing, Writing From Pictures, Summarizing Multiple References, and Inventive Writing) to help them organize any type of composition. Additionally, Stylistic Techniques such as: (-ly Adverbs, Who/Which Clause, Strong Verbs, Because Clause, Quality Adjectives, Banned Words, and more) are taught incrementally to gently move students from the basics into more sophisticated writing.	Structure and Style for Students, Year 2 Level A	Erica Lopez	Erica Lopez in her 7th year of homeschooling and graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Accounting. She specializes in managing bank audit operations, as well as, high-level customer service (written and oral) problem-resolution skills. She is a wife and mother to 4 sons, Evan (19), Gabriel (17), Isaiah (12), and Bishop (10). She is part of the Charis Women's Ministry Team at Calvary Chapel Chino Valley leading women's bible studies and a biblical healing class for broken women. She is passionate about encouraging homeschool mama's to stay in God's word and offering prayer as she walks around campus.	Email: TeacherLopez15@yahoo.com

Thursday Northkirk 1:15PM - 2:15PM	Building Blocks of Stories Literature/ Language Arts  (3rd-6th Grade)  $125 per semester	This class will prepare your kids for the Great Books by giving them a strong foundation in the building blocks of stories. We will focus on reading classic tales that every child should know including myths, fairy tales, legends, fables, and Bible stories. The first part of class will entail students listening to a story being read aloud, and the second part will include oral and/or written narration through which students will hone their habit of attention and practice oral & written composition. Students will keep a notebook for drawings and written work. Written work will not be graded, but will serve more as an opportunity for writing practice and development. (This class will follow a Charlotte Mason approach to literature/language arts).	None required. Students will keep notebooks for drawings and written narrations.	Jessica Tancredi	Jessica Tancredi is an adjunct English professor at Chaffey College and has taught English at the college level for over 10 years. She has her BA in English from CSU San Bernardino and her MA in Linguistics from Cal State Long Beach. She homeschools her 3 elementary-aged daughters a la Charlotte Mason, and she also teaches English for 11/12th grades here at Legacy.
